

Welcome to the Insight Space!

A collective peer to peer learning experience hosted by PeopleSmart

PeopleSmart invites you to join in Chris Pether (Founder & CEO) and in Michael Banks (Principal Consultant) as they facilitate a conversation about what really matters these days in the fields of Leadership, Learning and Development and HR.

Time and again leaders in organizations say that the greatest value and best insights come from spending time with their peers both inside and outside of the organization to which they belong.

As we all consider how to adapt to the fast changing and discontinuous business environment this kind of support and learning has never been more relevant than now!

We thought it would be a great idea to invite organisational leaders and managers to share what they have learned from the last year of extraordinary disruption, their successes as well as difficulties, and their challenges and aspirations for the year of 2021.

In our Insight Space series, we cover different questions that fall under the topic of "Leading into the future"

Round #4 will be dedicated to Building a Learning Community

What is this space?

A facilitated session in which you can:

- Ask for advice
- Contribute to others by giving advice and feedback
- Offer your insights
- Benefit from the collective wisdom of the group in an informal virtual gathering

Who is this for?

Decision makers in Leadership and Management, Leadership Development, Learning & Development, HR and Training

How you will learn?

This highly interactive and engaging web-session will be run via Zoom. We recommend participants connect from an undisturbed space with a stable internet connection, use headphones and have a webcam enabled for the best learning experience.

When will it take place?

Friday, 12th March, 15:00 to 16:00 CET

Registration

The Insight Space is free, structured to best suit you, and each session will be limited to a maximum of 10 people to allow for optimal participation.

If you are interested in participating, please register via events@peoplesmart.fr

And finally, there will be a short quiz with a prize for the winner during the session!
